FINANCIAL FLIGHT MODE

Your Flight Report

Nov 4, 2026 · Next check Dec 4, 2026 · US dollars

75 / 100

Cruise Control

Your income covers your plan with $650 available to assign.

Educational estimate.

Your next 7 days

Move $100 of unassigned cash into savings on payday.

Why this comes first: Your emergency cash covers 1.2 months of essential expenses.

That lifts your savings rate to 10.0%.

Starter Kit: Savings Tracker + Dashboard

Your instrument readouts

Monthly flexibility	$650 available to assign
Savings rate	8.3%
Required debt payment share of take home pay	8.3%
Personal emergency goal progress	50.0%
Emergency runway	1.2 months covered
Invested so far	$2,500
Extra to debt	$250

Your 30 day mission: Grow your emergency fund by one repeatable contribution each payday this month.

YOUR CHECKPOINT

Review. Reflect. Adjust.

Nov 4, 2026 · Return on Dec 4, 2026

Your input snapshot

Monthly amounts are flows; other amounts are balances. Required debt payments are already included in needs.

Take home income / month	$6,000.00
Needs / month (includes minimum debt payments)	$3,400.00
Wants / month	$1,200.00
Cash savings contributions / month	$500.00
Extra debt payments / month	$250.00
Debt balance (excluding mortgage)	$18,120.00
Emergency cash saved	$4,000.00
Personal emergency goal	$8,000.00
Long term investments	$2,500.00
Required debt payments / month (included in needs)	$500.00

Category and account details remain in your on-screen cockpit. This concise report keeps the totals.

Reflect on Dec 4, 2026

What action did I take?

What changed in my cash, savings or debt?

What will I adjust before the next payday?

Education only. A planning signal, not personal financial advice. FFM does not store your answers. Keep this saved copy private. Scoring FFM 2 review. Compare future checkpoints using the same definitions.